Penny Halgren is a quilter with more than 27 years of experience who loves to share her knowledge so your quilting journey is fun and stress-free.

Dear Quilter:

On a beautiful spring afternoon, five years ago, two quilters walked out of a Saturday quilt workshop. They were very much alike, these two brand new quilters. Both had previous sewing experience, both had the right tools for making quilts, and both – as new quilters are – were filled with images of beautiful heirloom quilts.

Last spring, these quilters met again at the local high school graduation. Both of them had grandchildren graduating that day.

The quilters were still very much alike. Both were very active in the community. Both maintained beautiful gardens. And both had continued making quilts.

But there was one big difference. One of these quilters made a beautiful family heirloom quilt in about one week for her grandson's high school graduation. The other quilter spent months of frustration trying to make a quilt for her grandson, gave up, and threw the jumbled up mess away.

What Made the Difference?

Have you ever wondered, as have I, what makes this kind of difference in quilters' progress? I've worked with hundreds of quilters and I can assure you it isn't always native intelligence or talent or dedication. It isn't that one quilter wants success more than the other.

The difference is that successful quilters seek out expert advice and shortcuts while they interact with other successful quilters. And that's what TheQuiltingCoach.com is all about.

Your success as a quilter is why TheQuiltingCoach.com was created: To give quilters like you inspiration and knowledge – inspiration and ideas for beautiful quilts they can make, free patterns to make beautiful quilts, and knowledge you can use to make beautiful quilts with ease.
